

Loan Officer Academy Requirements and Qualifications

Mountain West Financial offers you the prospect of a bountiful career.

Loan Officer Academy offers Mountains of Opportunity and the stepping stones that lead to a fulfilling career in the mortgage banking industry. Education and training will be provided by a proven industry leader, giving you the tools and support to create a foundation and become as successful as you desire. The training will walk through the loan process; from marketing techniques to get clients in the door, application and approval, through funding, in turn making homeownership a reality, one client at a time.

Self Paced Online Training Program will include the following topics:

- Loan Origination Software
- Loan programs and guidelines
- Best practices and procedures
- Industry-specific vocabulary
- Workflow through each department and the loan process
- Compliance and disclosures
- Marketing techniques

Requirements:

- Commit to keeping up with the training and material provided through the LO Academy.
- Agree to be studying for licenses and/or pass all required NMLS tests
- Be responsible for all expenses incurred for Pre Licensing education and outside training
- Must pass a credit and background check
- Upon completion may be considered for hire as a Loan Originator*
- Failure to participate in the course for 1 week will result in termination from the program

*Please note: a NMLS ID is required prior to being considered for hire as a Loan Originator. No exceptions.

Personal Attributes:

Candidates must be self-motivated, possess a positive attitude, exceptional work ethic, and have a desire to strive for excellence.

Each candidate must meet both corporate and branch employment eligibility requirements
